9.35 Sensation and Perception

Term Evaluated: Spring 2011
Response Rate: 2 responses out of 22 enrolled

Recommended Pre-requisites: Both students felt that 9.01 would be helpful

Motivation for taking the course: Both students took it because it sounded interesting and fit into their schedules

The student who responded said that the lectures sometimes felt repetitive after doing the readings and those lectures which diverged from the readings could be hard to understand.

The student who responded said that it wasn't too difficult as long as you read the book and didn't fall behind.

Best things about the course:
- Interesting material (at least sometimes)

Worst things about the course:
- Lectures could be dry and repetitive
Grading: Students felt that it was graded very fairly, but that feedback on assignments would have been helpful.

Readings: Both students agreed that the textbook useful and important for understanding that material.

The student who responded said that he was very nice and engaging, but that his lectures could be a little dry.

What future students should know about this course:

- “Go to recitations and read the book/study the powerpoints and you’ll be fine.”
- “Definitely take this class! I find myself on a regular basis seeing and understanding things in the real world that I learned from this class. It was great!”